BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT MARKETING MANAGER

(Health Care Practice Group)

JOB POSTING

JOB TITLE: Business Development Marketing Manager	STATUS: Exempt
REPORTS TO: Senior Director of Marketing Operations	LOCATION: Chicago, IL or Washington, D.C.
SUMMARY: We are seeking a Business Development Marketing Manager (“BDMM”) to join our team. Based in our Chicago, IL, or Washington, D.C., office, the BDMM works and collaborates with the CMO, Sr. Director of Marketing Operations, Sr. Director of Industry and Practice Strategies, Practice Group Leaders, Business Development Directors, other members of the Business Development and Marketing Department and outside marketing and public relations professionals to (1) create strategic business development and marketing plans and execute action items to achieve goals; (2) implement a comprehensive content marketing strategy across all digital and offline channels; (3) work with lawyers to prepare pitches for new business, as well as respond to requests for information and proposals; and (4) promote the visibility of the practice group among existing and prospective clients. This position is responsible for being the point person for all marketing and business development activities of the practice group(s) to which he/she is assigned. The Business Development Marketing Manager is expected to be a substantive contributor to the outcomes described, rather than merely a process coordinator. The BDMM is expected to create, recommend and implement creative marketing strategies to assist in generating new clients, expanding current clients, and enhancing the brand visibility of the Health Care Practice Group and its lawyers on a national basis. In accordance with the firm’s Client Service Initiatives, the Business Development Marketing Manager must display good judgment, effective interpersonal communications, and confidentiality and discretion are required consistently.
ESSENTIAL JOB FUNCTIONS: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Strategy: Create and implement yearly marketing and business development strategic plans and provide support and follow through on all marketing and business development initiatives.• Branding and Visibility: As the subject matter expert for the practice/industry, the BDMM will support and work in conjunction with the Practice Group Leader as well as other members of practice group including the Practice Group Administrator, marketing communications and public relations professionals to generate content, create and implement practice/industry-specific marketing materials and identify and leverage paid and earned media opportunities.• Content Marketing Strategy: Accountable for all content marketing initiatives to drive traffic, engagement and new business; collaborates across functions and silos to deliver an effective content marketing strategy and editorial plan to meet the business objectives. This role requires a brand publisher mindset: creating the content our audience is looking for and then optimizing the path to conversion. Editorial calendar and organization workflows must be developed and managed. Channel management of digital content hubs and all supporting social channels including LinkedIn, Twitter, email, website, etc. Measurement and optimization of the program will be required on a regular and ongoing basis.• Pitches/Proposals: Work with practice group members to respond to Requests for Proposals (RFP) and/or Requests for Information (RFI) to ensure that responses present a consistent and up-to-date message.• Seminars and Events: Work directly with practice group members and event resources to develop and implement seminars for clients and prospects on a national level, as well as coordinate practice group attendance and participation at industry events and conferences. Research opportunities for external seminars and symposiums where practice group’s capabilities could be featured. This will involve drafting content for such seminars, in coordination with, and at the direction of, lawyers in the practice group. The above described job elements are intended to indicate the general nature and levels of work being performed by employees assigned to the job. They are not intended to be an exhaustive list of duties, responsibilities and skills required of employees so classified.
