Experience Where it Counts

With a team of first-chair trial lawyers and decades of experience as national coordinating counsel, Faegre Drinker's product liability and mass torts team is ready to protect your products — wherever your defense may lead.

We use our knowledge of the science behind the products we defend to your advantage, presenting novel legal and factual defenses and scientific testimony to persuade judges and juries. Our in-house nurse paralegals provide sophisticated medical analysis to strengthen your case. Faegre Drinker's nationwide network of experts in food, medicine, pharmaceuticals, epidemiology, pesticides, industrial hygiene, forensics, information technology and consumer goods disciplines help to bolster our strategic defense. And we build inclusive and diverse teams to protect your brand in a coordinated, adaptable, and cost-effective way.
