Drinker Biddle's Gregory P. Miller Elected to Committee of Seventy's Board of Directors

PHILADELPHIA – Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP partner Gregory P. Miller has been elected to the board of directors of The Committee of Seventy (Seventy), a nonpartisan organization committed to improving the Philadelphia area by demanding ethical conduct of elected officials, promoting government efficiency, educating citizens and safeguarding elections.

“Greg’s knowledge of and dedication to Philadelphia makes him a wonderful choice for the board of Seventy,” said Drinker Biddle Chairman Alfred W. Putnam, Jr. “He embodies the same qualities and exceptional professional standards that should be present in all of our elected officials.”

“I’m honored to join the board of directors of Seventy,” said Miller. “I’m looking forward to working with colleagues from across the city on various projects that I’m convinced can have a significant, positive impact on the residents and future of Philadelphia.”

Miller, a partner in Drinker Biddle’s Commercial Litigation Practice Group, is recognized as one of the 50 most influential minority attorneys in Pennsylvania. He entered private practice in 1984 after almost a decade of public service, first as an officer in the U.S. Navy, Judge Advocate General’s Corps, and later as a federal prosecutor in the U.S. Attorney’s Office in Philadelphia. Miller is a frequent author and lecturer in the area of legal ethics and formerly was a member of the Disciplinary Board for the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Listed in 2007 as one of the Top 100 Pennsylvania Super Lawyers, Miller graduated from Case Western Reserve University School of Law in 1975. He received a B.A. from Mount Union College in 1972.
